Children's Area

This new building provides 20,000 square feet of space for library operations and services, meeting rooms, a computer lab, art gallery, and rental space. The architectural style of the building is strongly influenced by Frank Lloyd Wright's "Prairie School" design. The interior décor is intentionally warm, with a significant amount of wood trim and a fireplace. There are 233 windows in the building to provide natural light and a visual link to the surrounding environment. It is our goal to provide a new "community center" that offers a welcoming space to individuals and groups for library services and resources, cultural activities, civic and community events, and more.
